

Thomas C. Elliott, Jr., JD, ADA Associate General Counsel, joined the American Dental Association in April 2007. Within the ADA's Division of Legal Affairs, his responsibilities presently include serving as director for the Council on Ethics, Bylaws and Judicial Affairs, as well as assisting in the management of litigation, trademark and copyright matters of importance to the Association, antitrust counseling, complex contract and intellectual property license preparation and negotiation and serving as the legal adviser to a number of ADA Councils. Prior to joining the legal staff of the ADA, he was engaged in the private practice of law, representing companies ranging in size from entrepreneurial start-up ventures to Fortune 50 companies in intellectual property and other complex commercial litigation. He also has substantial experience in the prosecuting applications for federal trademark and copyright registrations, the licensing of intellectual property and analyzing financial and market information relative to presenting contested claims for damages in intellectual property matters. He received his law degree from IIT/Chicago-Kent College of Law, and was awarded a B.A. degree in Political Science from DePauw University in Greencastle, Indiana.
