

Francois M. Blaudeau, MD, JD, FCLM, FACHE, has been working daily to bring a higher quality of medical care to the women of Alabama and the Southeastern United States for over a decade. A pioneer in the field of minimally invasive surgical techniques, Dr. Blaudeau strives to lessen the suffering, the cost, and the risks related to women's surgery. Dr. Blaudeau has established the Institute for Minimally Invasive Surgery (IMIS), a non-profit educational and research organization to develop and promote laparoscopic surgical techniques. In 1998, Dr. Blaudeau was admitted to Alabama Bar Association Established Southern Institute for Medical and Legal Affairs to serve as an advocate for physicians' and patients' rights, as well as offer legal counsel to the general public.
