

John K. Hall, MD, JD, MBA, FRCPC, FCLM is a Diplomate, of the American Board of Anesthesiology and a Diplomate for the American Board of Legal Medicine. He is a professor of Anesthesia and Pediatrics and Vice Chairman of Pediatric Anesthesia at University of Mississippi Medical Center, and Chief of Anesthesia at Baptist Children's Hospital in Jackson, Mississippi.

Dr. Hall is a Texas trained mediator and who still mediates. He teaches mediation and negotiation to physicians and attorneys, regulatory health law and ethics to medical students, and business law and business practice to resident and attending physicians. Dr. Hall's research interests are in health care policy, specifically: patients' rights, physicians' rights, and professional responsibility. Dr. Hall's consulting firm provides risk assessment and management, litigation support, regulatory compliance as well as physician-staff relations support and counseling.