NEEDS & OBJECTIVES

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS

In recent years, there have been many momentous changes in medicine/dentistry and law, and in our world in general, that affect not only the medical/dental and legal professions but also our society in general. While we can study these changes on our own, the complexities of some of these issues often require extensive analyses provided by experts and scholars. As legal medicine professionals, Fellows and members of the American College of Legal Medicine need to have an in-depth understanding of these changes, specifically, of issues that arise at the interface of law and medicine.

OBJECTIVES

In line with our conference theme, Step into the Future: Advancing Legal Medicine in an Era of Change, and the mission of ACLM to continue the professional advancement of its members, expected results of ACLM's 63rd Annual Conference include providing and improving the knowledge and understanding of attendees in the following areas:

| 5. Public health issues related to childhood health, vaccine safety, and the legality of assisting suicide | 15. Overview of dentistry in Jamaica |
| 6. Legal hurdles with state dental licensing boards | 16. Need for global pandemic legislation and lessons learned from COVID-19 |
